What's new at MHS this year? A lot. We have a new principal, several new teachers, new carpet, and the gym and Home Ec. and Ag. building have been renovated. Everything has been painted and we have enclosed the walkway from the main building to the gym.

Although we still have the familiar faces of Mrs. Dement and Mr. Morris, we have added a few new ones. Mr. Ken Tatum transferred here from Pelham to take over as principal when Mr. Payne accepted a job at the Alternative School in Alabaster. In addition to Mr. Tatum we have a new math teacher and coach, Mr. Raybon, a coral teacher, Mrs. Hixon, and an art teacher, Mrs. Jenkins.

Although our school has changed a lot this year, it is still MHS.

"Close don't count but with horseshoes and hand grenades" was Coach Johnye Horton's reaction when asked about the 'Dogs 89-90 season. With fourteen loses and only eight wins the Bulldogs had a rough year. Coach Horton also said the team played well defensively but they just couldn't pull it off in the end. Though the team didn't win as many games as they should have, the coaches were proud of them for not giving up and for their fighting spirit.

"Our defense was good and so was our pitching; we just didn't get the hits when we needed them. However, we ended on a positive note by winning two out of three in the county tournament, including a victory over Vincent for third place," said Assistant Coach Skip Stano.

B Team

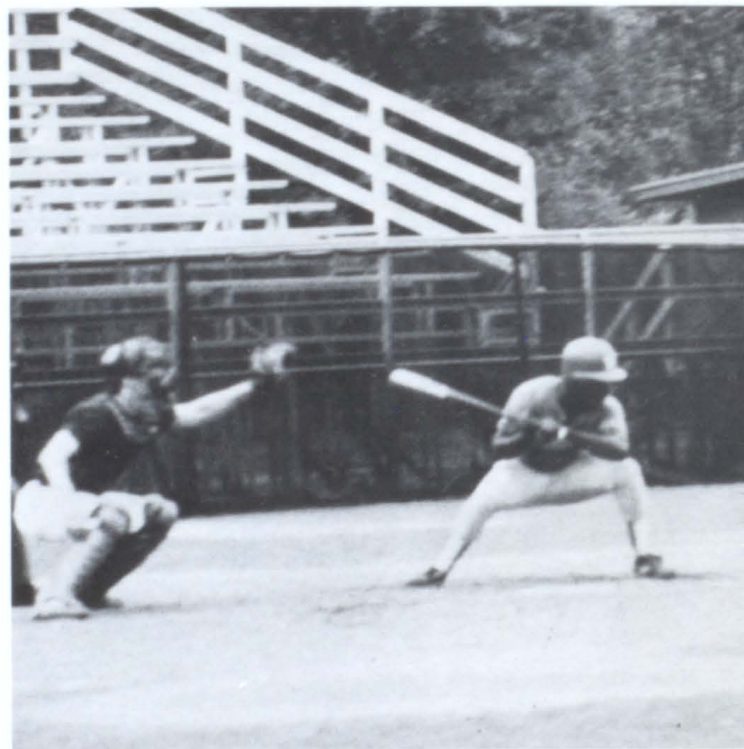

B Team Coach Tom Hester was very pleased with the B Team's efforts and performance this year. We posted a 10-6 record against some fine teams. "The boys showed a lot of confidence in some key situations that enabled us to win. They played as a team all year," said Coach Hester. He also hopes that some of the B Teamers will seek to play for varsity in the future.

Though not widely recognized, Montevallo High School has a successful track team. The track team's performance won them 4th place overall at a Pelham Track meet and 5th place at a meet in Briarwood. This enabled MHS to qualify for state competition, in which Daniel Horton received 3rd place in pole vaulting. Next year looks even more promising according to Coach Blanton. He hopes "to see continued growth . . . to utilize all of the tremendous track talent that MHS has."

1989-90 Tennis Team — Jamie Roberts, Alisa MacPherson, Coach Carolyn McCollough, Shelly Glenn, Renee Robertson, Jill Lawley, Liisa Erkomaa, Laura McCollough, and Heather Herron

Although tennis seems like a fairly new sport to MHS, it was actually played here in the '70s. One of these early tennis teams produced a tennis pro. If the hard work and dedication of last year's team is any indication, a few more will follow. As was already apparent to coach Carolyn McCollough at last year's practices "each of the members improved more and more throughout the year and they will continue to improve in the years to come."

1990 should be an excellent year for the Montevallo High School Golf Team if the hard-working players have any say in the matter. Each team member has set a goal to lower his own personal score and together they plan to lower the team average as well. Although there are no seniors on the team, it doesn't sound as if it will be a problem for the optimistic players.

Awards that were given included top musicians from each class, All-State musicians, Presidential Academic Fitness winners, senior athletes and scholarship recipients.

Guests attending were parents, members of armed forces, and PTO members.

ternational fellowship. We all had a great time, and it was a wonderful learning experience for the students," says World Geography teacher Barbara Henderson, organizer of the event. Also attending were international students from the University of Montevallo; among them, students from Norway, Greece, Malaysia, and China. Coach Vakakes' classes were among many students participating.

Prom

The 1989-90 Junior-Senior Prom was held at the Caraway House, April 13, 1989. Couples started arriving at eight o'clock. The Caraway House was a perfect setting for the prom. "It was very romantic, I really enjoyed dancing out by the pool," quoted Kandi Hall.

Junior class officers who were in charge of prom activities were: Rebecca Kelly, Robyn Lawley, Michael McClain, and Jennifer Oglesby. "The decorations were very hard to put together, but after we got it all together it was really worth it," said Angelia Blackmon.

There was a senior leadout which recognized the seniors and their dates. After leadout everyone participated in a dance of "Here and Now."

Jill Lawley says, "Should I shake his hand or just grab it and make a run for it?"

As a robed figure walks across the stage, mothers and fathers faces gleam with joy, and some can't bring themselves to watch. Backstage excitement is in the air, and anticipation in knowing they'll "be outta here" in a few moments. Many cry knowing that those friends that they use to cut class with or flunk that test with, will not be there any more. And what about those semester exams; no one can ever forget those. And all those Homecoming games and dances that were just the highlight of the year. Many of their years were spent trying to make the grade or that hard class, or trying to pass that semester exam. But all that is behind them now and they know nothing like high school will ever happen to them again.

Summer Tunes

In August, the excitement of Band Camp began. Each day started at 8:30 AM with warm-ups. For the first few days the freshmen were taught the art of marching. Band Camp continued throughout August, with learning new drills and music. After school began, practice was held every afternoon to continue perfecting the marching drill for a great performance.

Working Hard

Summer vacation ended early this year of the 1990-91 edition of the football team. The team is working hard to prepare for the two-a-day practices in August. There are only 36 players on the team. Out of those are ten seniors. "The team is very young this year but tough," Coach Vakakes said, "I'm looking for leaders from any grade level.

The upperclassmen will have to step forward and lead the team to a successful season." The Bulldogs are hoping to have a winning season. Senior Paul Johnson comments, "It was a tough summer training, on the field it was hot and humid with no water breaks. It was the hardest summer practice I've ever been in."

Noah Miller runs down field to make the lead block.

Coach Plerson and Kacy Henderson add a little humor to practice.

Lance Ernest sets up and passes down field to an open receiver.

Building Spirit

The 1990-91 Varsity Cheerleaders hard summer practices paid off in a great camp performance. The Cheerleaders comment, "Being that we are all members of the Junior class we feel that we have become the best of friends. This compatibility has allowed us to work hard and achieve our goals." Cheerleader Lacey Thomas comments, "Being head cheerleader, I feel that I have brought the squad closer together which helps us to become more successful cheerleaders." Junior Cheerleader Rachel McKinney comments, "It was a great summer practice, because each of us will savor all of the wonderful memories and next year we will be ready to make more of them."

Practicing a stunt during summer practice are some of the varsity cheerleaders Lacey Thomas, Mollis Cottingham, Gabrielle Metz.

All of the varsity cheerleaders including the B-team cheerleaders work on a routine for the Homecoming Pep rally.

Junior Cynthia Goldsmith says, "Being outside gave everything a really great appeal." For 35 minutes Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen jammed and clapped to the beat of bass drums and cheerleaders.

After MHS's annual Homecoming Parade, cheerleaders and coaches held a pep rally for all Montevallo schools. Each class showed definite school spirit by wearing school colors and chanting class cheers.

Homecoming 1990

Homecoming '90 was filled with much excitement during the pre-game show while the Homecoming court was being introduced. The court was taken on to the field by convertibles owned by citizens of the community.

The crowd was filled with anticipation of the crowning of our New Homecoming Queen, Crystal Minor. Crystal was crowned by former Queen Dana Layton.

After the crowning, mostly everyone left the game to get ready for the "BIG DANCE." The theme of the dance was "Uncharted Melodies." The dance was filled with excitement and romance. Later on there was a Senior Bulldogs and Court Leadout. Everyone that was in the leadout was escorted by their date.

After leadout everyone accompanied the New Homecoming Queen in a dance.

POLITICS AND PRIDE

Continuing in the tradition of years past, the Montevallo High School Class Officers have worked hard to make the 1990-91 school year memorable for all. Each grade's officers worked on a specific task to make this one of the best years ever. The biggest contribution class officers make is in organizing class competitions and activities for Homecoming. The Junior officers also play a major part in planning the Junior/Senior Prom. As is obvious to all, their hard work really paid off.

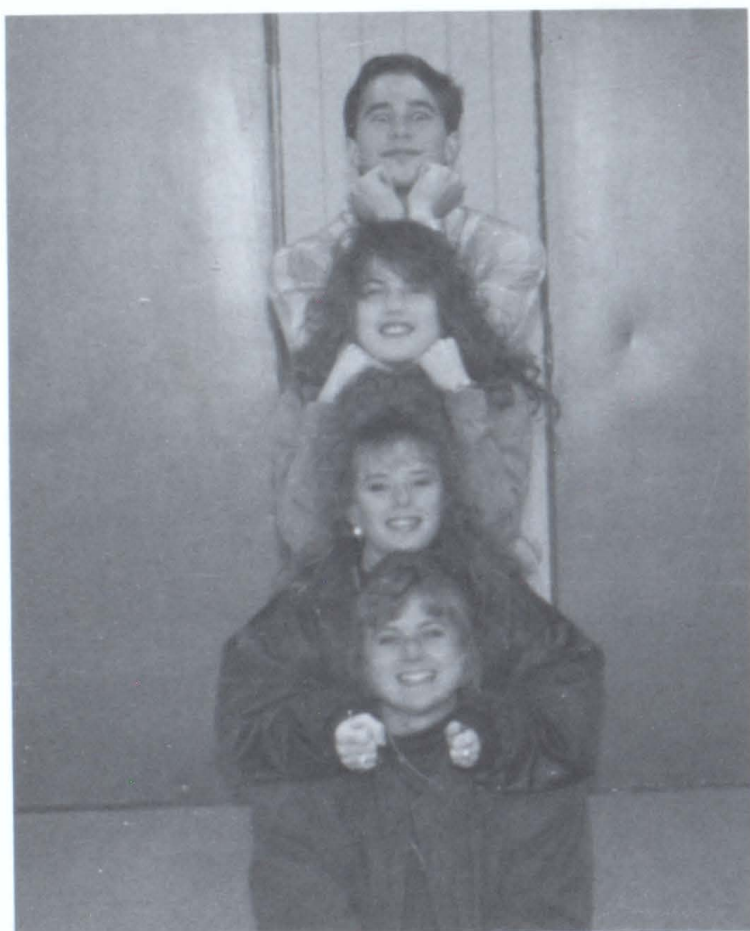

Senior officers are Pres. Jason Hughes, Vice Pres. Kacy Henderson, Treasurer Robin Brabham, and Secretary Jill Bridges.

Soph. officers are Pres. Meredith Cobb, Vice-Pres. Amy Fotchman, Secretary Brad Rogers, and Treasurer Eric Wilson.

Freshmen officers are Pres. Thandi McClain, Vice-Pres. Baye Taff, Secretary Courtney Harrell, and Treasurer Rachel Lawley.

Although working math problems might not be what you see yourself doing on the weekends, it's exactly what Montevallo's dedicated Math Team does. Most of the tournaments they compete in take place on Saturdays. The Math Team is split into four smaller teams: Algebra 1, Algebra 2, Geometry, and Advanced Math. They average around five or six matches a year. From the results of the past years, Montevallo should have nothing but pride in its Math Team.

NHS

The Montevallo High School National Honor Society elects new members from the Junior class every spring. These people remain members of NHS throughout their senior year. In order to be in the Honor Society you have to maintain at least an 85 average and show good citizenship and leadership. Throughout the year, the Honor Society sponsors many activities. Some of these are the door decorations, tutoring, and honor roll.

The staff at Montevallo High is dedicated to not only teaching their students the subjects of school, but also the lessons of life. Teachers challenge their students to achieve their highest goals.

Much preparation goes in to teaching students the necessities of life. Teachers must have initiative and creativity in order to make learning productive.

Discipline is needed in order to maintain a good educational environment for students to learn. Students cooperation is essential for a successful school.

COMING UP

Coming to the high school is a big step for most freshmen. With the freedom comes the responsibility of making their own decisions. They are given the opportunity to choose their own classes and participating in fun activities provided by organizational clubs.

Being around older students gives them a role model for acceptable behavior and lets them prove themselves as they develop their personalities and interests.

This is the first year for many of the freshmen to participate in Homecoming Week. This week includes the events of pep rally, hippy day, bulletin board, hat and shades day, door, poster, orange and blue day, penny jugs, sock hop, banner, chant, parade, and float competition.

Over all they came in third place with a score of 157. The highest score they made was a 50 in the float and the lowest was a 3 in sock hop attendance and pep rally.

Sophomores Suzanne Harkins and Darcy Gerber carefully observe the egg drop.

The Sophomore year is a time for excitement and anticipation. Most sophomores turn sixteen this year. The hustle and bustle of learning how to drive can be sometimes nauseating and other times inspiring.

Other sophomores look forward to their junior year and becoming upperclassmen. The receiving of rings during the junior year is anticipated. Many sophomores just enjoy not being the youngest anymore!

Marching

As has long been a tradition at Montevallo High School, the Troubadors receive excellent marks at almost every contest they participate in; and this year's band is no disappointment to that record. This past year the Troubadors have gone to two contests. At Lawson Field they received ones and at Chilton Co. High they received a one. They also perform a half-time show at every football game, participate in parades for Fire Prevention, Labor Day, and Homecoming. These are a few of the ways the Troubadors support Montevallo.

Band Director Jim Weese brags on the band by saying, "The kids have got their act together. They really work hard and give it all they've got. I'm really proud of them." The concert consisted of such songs as "Code of Arms," "Sleigh Ride," "Invicta," "Christmas Festival," and "Christmas Recollections." Lisa Womac comments on the band by saying, "The band has come a long way this year considering the outstanding number of Freshmen and I think we will do well at district." Kim Cleckler says, "I look forward to going to district and I feel confident of the band's ability." Along with the band, the newly founded Chorus also contributed to the holidays with their beautiful voices.

This year's squad consists of four eighth graders, two ninth graders, and two tenth graders. This last summer they attended a clinic at the University of Montevallo in which they won many ribbons and awards. Head cheerleader Meredith Cobb said, "Getting to know all of the cheerleaders has been a lot of fun, but the practices have been more work than I expected. I really liked it this year."

Brains at Work

The officers of the Science Club: Lindet Peoples, LaCharles King, Amy Morris, Christi Holsomback, and Edward Patrick.

Busy as always, sponsor of the Science Club Wally Blanton stops to pose for his picture.

This year's Science Club meets in the auditorium as a result of its huge number of students. The mass of students requires 5 officers. The club has made plans so far for a skiing trip to Gatlinburg for the weekend. Their indefinite plans are to visit the Space and Rocket Center in Huntsville; the trip was a big success last year. Handling a crowd takes a large amount of leadership on Mr. Blanton's part; Congratulations!!

Student Council has become a big part of Montevallo High. Not only do they host Sock Hops after every home football game, but they also plan Homecoming Week and all its festivities. Among these activities are: the Homecoming Parade, inviting back Alumni, and the exciting Homecoming dance! Even with all this responsibility, the Student Council also finds time to have a Blood Drive.

"I'm proud that our

Student Council is progressing from year to year. We are becoming a really good service oriented organization. Michael is giving us great leadership with good help from Lee and the other officers," commented Mr. Horton.

Peer Helpers officers are Paul Johnson — Pres.; Kacy Henderson — V. Pres.; Beth Milstead — Sec.; Brad Goggins — Treas.

"The one thing I like about Peer Helpers is you have the gratification that you can help someone in need," commented Ketwana Valentine. Kimya Cleckler also had this to say, "Peer Helpers is a great way to meet new people and help new students."

The Peer Helpers is an explorer group of The Boy Scouts of America committed to helping students with the problems they face every day. This year the Peer Helpers assisted the Elementary School with the Christmas Bazaar.

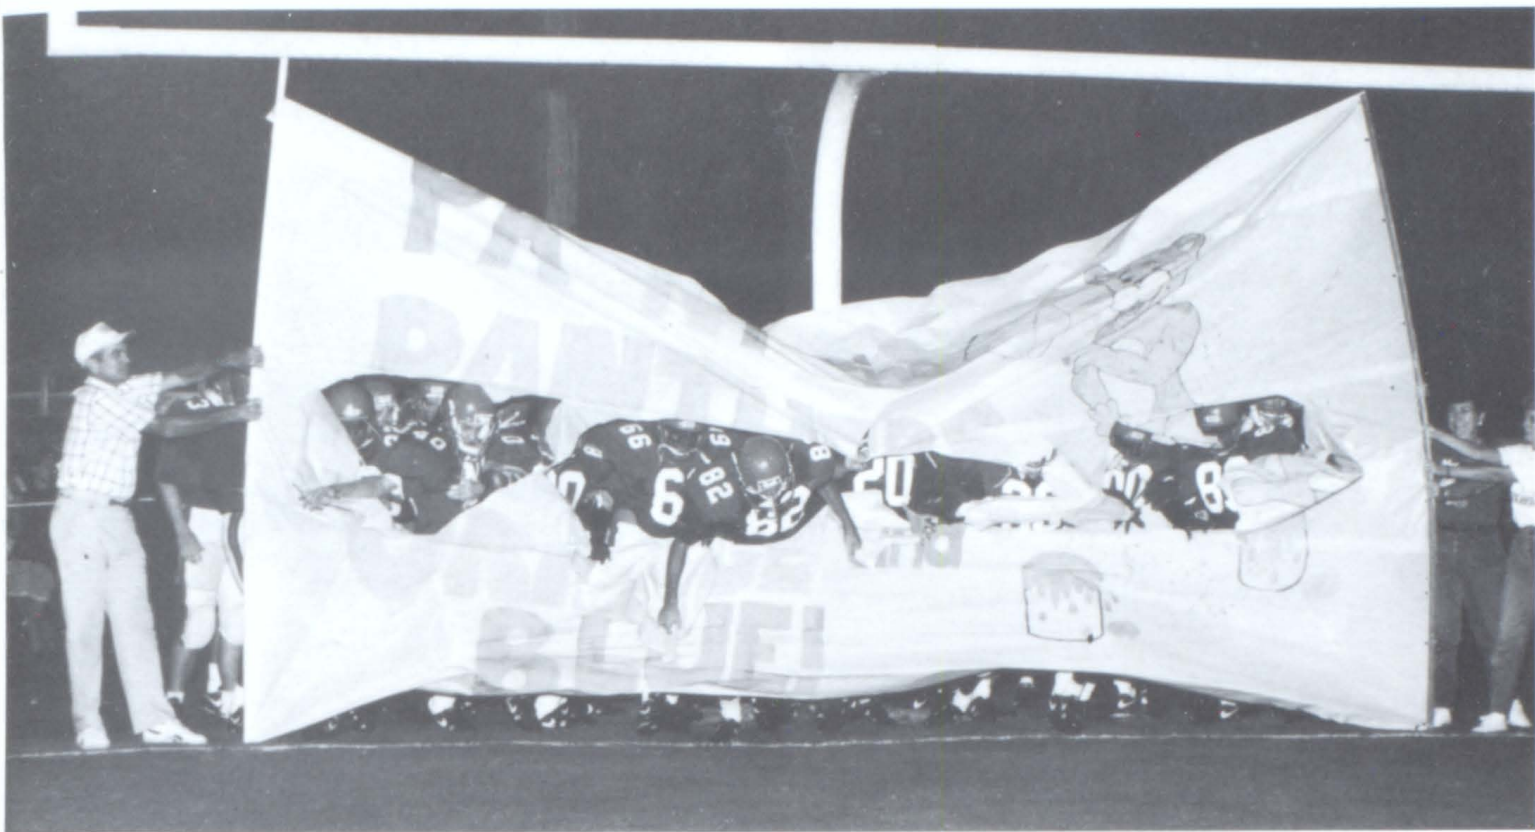

They are selected by their fellow students. When talking to a Peer Helper you can be assured that your conversation will be kept in confidence.

B-TEAM FOOTBALL

A. Vogel, L. King, M. Lawley, and R. Bearden patiently await their turn in the game.

The 1990-1991 B-Team football team had a good year. They ended the season with three wins and three losses. Junior player Brent Baugh said, "We've had a good season this year, but next year's team will be better." Most of the players agreed that they made a few mistakes that cost them some games but overall they had an impressive year. Coach Hester stated, "The kids showed a lot of desire and hustle throughout the season."

This past season the Volleyball team at MHS went to area tournament and sub state. They played BB Comer and Jemison, they defeated both teams. After that they received the District 7-A trophy. From there they traveled to Greensboro on Saturday afternoon for Sub State.

Karen Junkins waits patiently for her turn to spike the ball.

Tracey Battle practices bumping the ball before the game.

Kerri Junkins sets the ball up to her teammate to spike it.

LaTora Edwards gets ready to bump the ball.

Rachel Stano says, "UG" as she misses the ball and it hits her in the gut.

Junior Varsity Basketball

The Bullpups start their 1990 season on fire. The Bullpups were undefeated in their first seven ball games. Coach Raybon comments, "They get better every game. I hope we have an undefeated season and county championship." 9th grader Eric Jones comments, "It is a fun year and I look forward to playing B-team basketball." 9th grader Tyrice Staffney comments, "If we keep on playing as a team we should be undefeated." The Bullpups are seeded number one in the County tournament. They have the best record for JV in the county.

The 1990-1991 B-Team basketball team kept improving as their season progressed throughout the year. "So far we've lost 6 games, but we're trying to turn the season around," said Freddie Green. Most of the home games were played at the U of M's gym because our gym wasn't completed. Head Coach, Tom Hester said, "The players work good together and they will be good players for next year's Varsity team."

Reginald Shamburger and Andre Agee stop to figure out what's wrong.

The team gathered around after the win of a game.

Lea Gaddis climbs over any and everybody to make a two point basket.

Maggie Carter attempts a pass to her other teammates.

The girls finished their season 10-6 and are feeling really good about it. Lashawn says, "I think we did really good because everyone wanted to win." Due to a glitch in the rules the girls had to, unfortunately, forfeit all their games. Coach Vakakes says "It's just one of those things that we have to live with. I hate that we have to give some of the games to our rivals but we'll get them next year." Latora Edwards is quoted in saying "We have done really great this year."

Michelle Hall shoots effortlessly at the free throw line while Cynthia Goldsmith watches carefully.

Stephanie Montgomery waits anxiously on the referee's call.

Edward Patrick makes a fast break as he races a Jemison player to Montevallo's side of the court.

Kacy Henderson stretches to block a Jemison player as he goes up for a lay-up.

The Dogs started off their season on the road due to construction on the gym. At the beginning of the season they were 6-0 undefeated and they had the best record in the county. Their goal was Area 6 Champions and State Champions. If they become State Champs they will be one of the first teams to do so since the 70's. Senior Captain Shannon Fletcher comments, "We played as a team our first six games and I hope we're on the winning side of everything."

Eager to retrieve the ball, Derick Stallworth battles the Jemison defense.

Rick Shack watches the ball in mid-air as he prepares to fight for it.

High Technology Closer to You

At Shelby Medical Center we believe the residents of our service area deserve the best medical care possible. That's why we have some of the most modern technological equipment available anywhere. SMC's high technology is available 24-hours a day. Having this advanced technology closer to you can save valuable minutes in an emergency. It could save your life.

Ask your doctor about SMC's technology. You'll find you can drive a lot less and get better health care services at Shelby Medical Center.

REFLECTING

This year started off with many changes, from a new principal to unfinished classrooms. It was hard to adjust to the new schedule including no break which made the day drag on forever. The unfinished rooms made paying attention hard to do but as things got back to normal, school became less hectic.

I've enjoyed my junior year so far, even with the changes, friends have still been there. Working on homecoming was fun and I am looking forward to the prom. Though this year has been great, look forward to next year graduation. Beth Milstead

My senior year in high school is one of the most exciting years I've ever had. It has taught me to be a leader and to be a friend to all. Being a senior is not the end, but it's only the beginning. It is a time to take on more responsibilities. I accepted this challenge by being a Peer Helper and a Student Council Representative. Being involved in clubs is an easy way to meet friends. The most memorable aspect of my senior year is being on the Homecoming court. I felt a lot of pride knowing my classmates cared enough about me to represent our class on this occasion. Being a senior is not only exciting, but it is also sad knowing that I am not going to see my friends and teachers on a day-to-day basis or maybe ever again. I would like to end by giving thanks to my teachers, family, and mostly to God, because if it wasn't for them, I wouldn't have made it this far. Camille Campbell

Coming to the high school and starting 9th grade has been a challenging experience. At first I was uncertain about the courses I had chosen and I was nervous about making a good first impression. Not only was the first month the hardest, but it was the most fun. I was busy keeping up with assignments and working with the other members of the freshman class to get ready for Homecoming. Working with my friends and teachers to build the Freshman float is something I will never forget. After Homecoming, my classes seemed to become routine and the "new" of the school year wore off. I devoted most of my time to school — work and clubs, including the Peer Helping Retreat at Camp Winnataska which proved to be a lot of fun. As I look back on the year, I realize that it has been full of surprises. I have accomplished many things that I never expected to attempt. I have more freedom to make my own choices and the responsibility that comes along with that freedom. I am looking forward to the rest of my years at Montevallo High School, and I hope that they are just as rewarding. Baye Taff

Things have certainly changed this year at Montevallo High School. When everyone returned to school on September the 4th most people were amazed as they walked through the halls. The school was total chaos. None of the students had lockers, the floors weren't carpeted, many of the rooms couldn't be used because of renovation, the gym was torn apart, and everyone had to get used to having a new principal. As the year progressed everything seemed to improve. The school slowly began to become completed and everyone learned to accept all the changes taking place. My tenth grade year has been a great learning experience for me. It has also been a lot of fun. This year's Homecoming was one I'll never forget. I had so much fun preparing for Homecoming and building the float. Although there have been many changes this year at Montevallo High School, the people have stayed friendly and caring. Amy Fochtman

Many students were surprised to discover that remodeling was still underway on Montevallo High as the new 1990-91 school year began. Construction was due to be completed before students returned to school but, by August it was apparent that it would continue as students began their schooling. A new deadline was set for basketball season. Unfortunately, construction on the gym was completed in mid-season in time for only a few basketball games.

Not only did we receive new students for the year, but also a new principal. Ken Tatum transferred from Pelham High School, where he was the assistant principal, to replace Norman Payne. Mr. Payne took a position as the director of the new Alternative School.

Among other surprises this year was the trouble in the Persian Gulf, otherwise known as Operation Desert Storm. President George Bush sent American troops to free Kuwait from Saddam Hussein's wicked rule. As other countries joined forces with the United States the Allied powers were tripled against Hussein's cruel oppression.

As family and friends pray for the safe return of their loved ones, all the world prays for peace in the Middle East!
